Cooperative residents seek recall of directors

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

All is not quiet on the Wellesley Townhouses Cooperative front.

A bit of a raucus is brewing in Romulus between residents of Wellesley and the board of directors who are elected by the residents.

About 184 residents have signed petitions with the intent to oust all four board members: William Lincoln, Mary Danko, Mary Tyus and Marjorie Haynie.

More than 50 residents were carrying recall signs and walking around the complex last week and April 29 protesting the way the board is operating, according to Cynthia McMillin, former member of the board.

"We have 184 signatures on the petitions, and according to the by-laws we're suppose to have a special meeting set up," McMillin said. "They (the board) have not called a special meeting yet. They were hoping we would drop the issue."

"The board has been having secret meetings without the residents knowledge. They pushed Charles Ripple out of office. I've seen Bill Lincoln coming out of the board office all hours of the night."

Lincoln did not return phone messages left at presstime.

On March 21 Wellesley had a pre-election for board members. The election was conducted at the annual board meeting to elect two positions to the board. The election results were as follows:

- Marjorie Haynie-71 votes.
- Mary Danko-63 votes.
- Cynthia McMillin-55 votes.

- Oliver Krell-37 votes.
- Roxanne Akowitz-23 votes.
- Tim Spiwak-23 votes.
- Rick Boyer-5 votes.

On March 22, Krell contested the election. On April 7 a runoff election was staged between Danko and McMillin. The results were as follows:

- Mary Danko-42 votes.
- Cynthia McMillin-40 votes.

"I keep working on this because I still consider myself a member," McMillin said. "I've lived here for 18 years and have been actively involved in the Cooperative. I was elected as a board member in 1988."

The recall committee wants the entire board recalled and a fair election, according to McMillin.

Ripple, who was the former assistant treasurer for the complex, recently wrote a letter to all the members of Wellesley, before he was ousted by the board members, informing them of an alleged wrongdoing with the election.

"I was told by a few members, they saw members depositing more than two ballots into the ballot box, which is wrong, according to the Cooperative By-Law, Article IV, Section 7 and 8," Ripple said. "I personally feel I cannot function in full swing as a representative for you the membership under all this controversy."

On April 22, Lincoln presented Ripple with a letter which stated he was automatically off the board effective Feb. 1 for being more than 30 days delinquent on carrying charges for January 1991.

"I was found guilty and declared off the board without even being able to express my opinion," Ripple said. "What's really at stake is the possibility of losing money from Housing Urban Development. We have well over $3 million at stake here. The program is suppose to be funded again this spring."

Not only do the members of Wellesley seem fed up with the board of directors, the Wellesley Townhouses Cooperative attorney Carl Becker has resigned because of all the raucus.

In a recent letter to the board and members, Becker explained his reasoning for resigning.

"On April 23, 1991, a flyer was distributed from the board of directors of Wellesley Townhouses to the general membership," Becker said. "Because the flyer attributes a number of statements to me which are not correct or taken out of context, I feel that I must correct the record so that you have all the relevant facts before you."

"As your attorney, I believe that my ultimate loyalty is to the entire cooperative, not to one member, not to the board or even to the managing agent."

Becker pointed out the following:

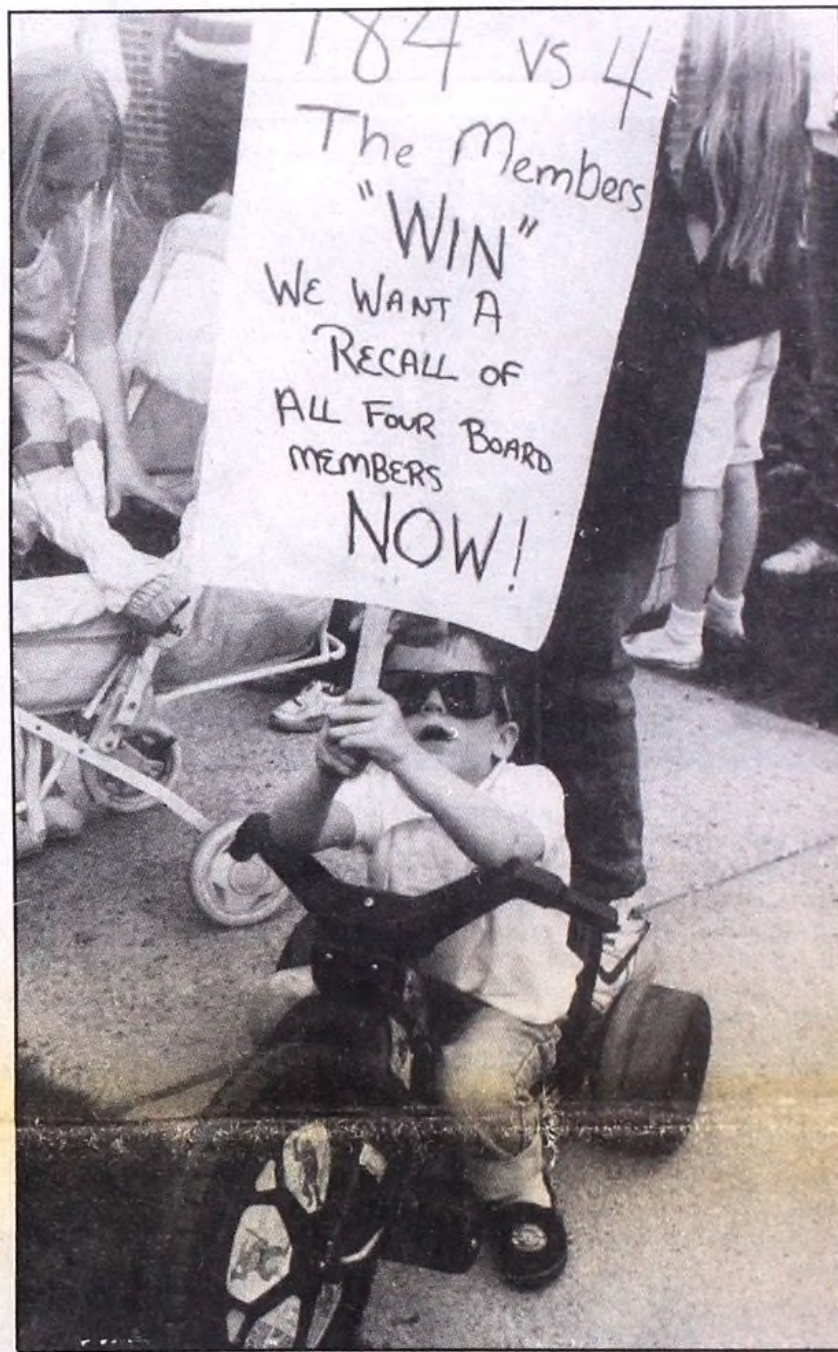

- Employees of the Cooperative were used to distribute the flyer from the board of directors which contained political statements in it. This perceived misuse of employees was the very reason why Becker filed a lawsuit against the old board of directors six years ago.

• The flyer claims the board certified public accountant and Becker unequivocally agreed Ripple was no longer a member of the board of directors because he was "in fact delinquent in excess of 30 days" in his carrying charges. Becker said he has yet to establish this fact and is still in the process of conducting an investigation.

• The flyer claims Becker determined on the first petition for the recall of the board of directors there were not enough signatures. "This is false," Becker said. "I determined that because the petition was poorly worded it did not adequately express what was the purpose of the petition. That is why you were asked to sign a new petition by Mr. Ripple."

"I cannot work for a board of directors which selectively discloses certain attorney-client matters, but not others for apparent political purposes and uses my name in the process," Becker said. "As an attorney, a member of the board of directors of the National Association of Housing Cooperatives and the Midwest Association of Housing Cooperative, I cannot and will not permit my name to be used to further political goals. As a result I must resign as the attorney representing Wellesley through the board of directors."

Becker hoped the chaos would not set the development back 10 years and halt the multi-million dollar loan from HUD to rehabilitate Wellesley which he has worked to achieve during legal representative of Wellesley.

Judge's decision
Court rules on mayor's questionsBy MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Henry Zaborowski, chief judge of the 34th District Court, recently addressed Mayor Beverly McAnally's request to answer several matters involved with pending litigation between the 34th District Court and the City of Romulus.

The 34th District Court filed a suit against the city about March 1, according to McAnally. The brawl surrounds the expansion request by the court officials in order to house a third judge for the district court which serves Van Buren Township, Inkster, Sumpter Township and Romulus.

"We at first were considering an expansion of City Hall," McAnally said. "We're very cramped here. We wanted to have all the city officials under one roof."

"Then the court came to us and said they felt they needed a third judge. The expenses of the expansion are the responsibility of the city. We agreed to the expansion on the basis that the court officials said with a third judge, expenses would be paid for the expansion."

What happened, according to McAnally is just the opposite. Revenue with the third judge has dropped, McAnally said.

"They said (court officials) would generate enough money for payment of the expansion," McAnally said. "So we agreed to the third judge if they would get rid of the magistrate position. The city assumed a $135,000 a year debt for the expansion. Now, the court continues to keep the magistrate position and revenues are dropping."

Classroom of future not too far offBy MARGO DEWEY

Romulus students will soon be able to attend a classroom of their choice anywhere in the United States without leaving the school building.

Romulus Community School officials are making history by changing the traditional classroom with a blackboard into an advanced computer learning station. The project is a result of a $45-million bond issue which Romulus residents approved last November.

Students will soon be situated in cluster groups around several tables in a classroom where about every two students will have a computer at their desk, according to Community Relations Director Art McPharlin.

"It's going to be a computer student learning station where the teacher will instruct from a 45-inch colored television monitor," McPharlin said. "A Mobile Teacher Computer Station will be linked to the 45-inch television."

Within the Mobil Teacher Computer Station, there will be about five computers at hand for the students. A phone will be installed on the wall where the teacher can access video information from a media room. The video will be instantly displayed on the big screen for the teacher to discuss with the students.

The MTC station enables the teacher to pull various students out of the big classroom and have them focus on specific subjects. The regular class will meet in what is called a Computer Aided Instructional Clas-

Senator makes stop at Ford Stamping Plant

Sen. Don Riegle speaks with members of the U.A.W. Local 900 and employees of the Ford Wayne Stamping Plant during a brief visit Monday. A proposed agreement to spark free trade between the United States and Mexico would jeopardize local automotive jobs and factories, U.S. Sen. Donald Riegle told workers at the Ford Stamping and Assembly Plant in Wayne Monday.

During a 1-mile plant tour, Riegle spoke candidly about his efforts to block a huge multi-national free trade agreement package, which includes trade provisions with Mexico.

Riegle said the plant, which assembles Ford Escorts, and other similar factories could face massive lay-offs or even closings in the near future if the agreement with Mexico is enacted.

He said working conditions are terrible in Mexico and cited workers there earn an average of 57 cents per hour, compared with $10.47 per hour for their U.S. counterparts.

"In Mexico, the labor is cheap but that doesn't help us here," Riegle said. "If you put the two countries on even footing, you're talking about a loss of jobs for our workers. No one can be sure what the impact would be, but this agreement would definitely put American workers and factories in jeopardy."

Riegle said free trade with Mexico would further stiffen competition in the automotive marketplace and force domestic carmakers to accelerate their current streamlining policies. Ultimately, he said the wide disparity in wages would weigh heavily against American workers.

"This is one of the best and most efficient plants not only in the nation but in the world. Even in a plant like this one, with high quality and teamwork, the agreement would put it in jeopardy," Riegle said. "The workers here realize this and that's why we're doing something about it."

Exactly what Riegle can do remains to be seen. Even he admits it is unlikely the trade package will be voted down in the Senate because of strong support. He said there is a good chance, however, the package could be split and the trade provision with Mexico isolated.

If that happens, Riegle said his next step would be to try and delay the agreement from being placed on the Senate "fast track," which limits the time of debate on a proposal to 15 hours.

Board attends technology conference

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

The Romulus Board of Education recently attended the National School Boards Association's Convention in San Francisco, Calif.

Romulus Schools Superintendent William Bedell was pleased all board members were able to attend the conference.

Bedell said he believes it was important that board members learn as much as possible about the utilization of technology, what's new and how other districts are using technology in their schools.

The five-day convention included clinics and workshops. Discussions by Dr. Charles M. Reigeluth, an experienced educator and consultant who is currently a professor of Instructional Systems Technology at Indiana University, consisted of the concept of school restructuring and technology and how to implement them.

Following the session was an interactive workshop with representatives from districts who already have a comprehensive technology restructuring plan.

Board members had the opportunity to participate in clinics such as "The Key to a Successful Technology Program," "A Bold New Look for the Library/Media Center," "Implementing Smart School Technology at a Secondary Level" and "What is Distance Learning."

Some board members also had the opportunity to visit schools in California where technology programs have been implemented. California schools lead the nation in technology.

The exhibits featured a first-hand look at new projects and initiatives, featuring demonstrations of equipment designed for schools. Among the convention exhibitors were a number of technology vendors with products and services of special interest to technology users.

Partners in education meet

By RANDY FRANK
ANP Staff Writer

More than 70 Romulus Senior High School teachers visited 11 businesses in the Romulus Partnership for Education Wednesday in a joint effort to improve students' "employability" skills.

Opening the communication line with direct visits enables teachers and business people to understand each others' needs, according to Edward Clark, partnership coordinator.

Clark and 10 teachers attended a tour of the Marriott Hotel of Romulus to examine the hospitality industry first hand.

Before touring various departments, Marriott Personnel Director Kelly Jorgenson told the group of her expectations for high school graduates seeking employment.

Jorgenson said Marriott Hotel expects prospective employees to quickly learn skills, have a good attitude and have a good attendance record.

Hotel managers seek employees with the following skills: accounting, computers, sales/marketing, maintenance, food service, leadership development and general business.

Moreover, Jorgenson said a "willingness to learn" was extremely important, since the hotel gives employees on-the-job training.

With the tight job market, several teachers wanted to know the employee turnover rate and the average age of Marriott employees.

"People are holding onto their jobs especially since Desert Storm," said the personnel director, who added the average age of hotel employees is 26.

The turnover rate at the Romulus Marriott is 60 percent, while employing 130 hourly workers.

At the Marriott, employees may expect advancement. Almost 80 percent of the managers started as hourly workers.

In fact, Jorgenson learned many facets of the hotel business during college, working as a cocktail waitress and gift shop clerk before graduating from college with a human resources degree nine years ago.

The sales, front desk and gift shop tours were conducted by Lyle Davis, director of marketing. He said many employees in these areas eventually go into management positions.

Prospective front desk and sales employees must have solid communication, typing and computer skills, according to Davis.

Teachers also visited house-keeping, the boiler room, restaurant, kitchen and health club areas.

After the tour, teachers and hotel staff discussed topics such as the employee improvement process, working together as a team to help students in the work environment today and profiling the perfect applicant.

Eventually, Clark hopes to make similar visits available at the junior high and elementary school levels. He said he feels the visit was a success and wants to move forward, now with contacts established.

Other participating Romulus businesses in the program include Special Tree Ltd., Cateair International Co., Central Distributors of Beer Inc., General Motors Powertrain, Edgewood Tool and Manufacturing, Header Products Inc., The Spriatex Co., Security Bank and Trust, Woodbridge Tool Corp., Kuehn and Nagel and Kerr Manufacturing.

Educators thanked the following local sponsors: Kiwanis Club, Edgewood Tool, Stear's Hardware, Federal Mogul, Progressive Club, Fred Coleman (athletic director), Gail Coleman, Header Products, Holiday Inn, Crova GMC Truck, Host International Inc., Lear Siegler, United Brass, St. Lawrence Press, Lance Knudson (national honor society advisor), Herff Jones and MVP Products.

Nursery school open house slated

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Huron Countryside Co-op Nursery officials staged an open house April 24 at Miller Elementary School.

The open house provided the opportunity for new or prospective members to visit the classroom, meet the teachers and current members and find out about the program.

Tuition is $22 per month for 3-year-olds who meet Tuesday and Thursday and $33 per month for 4-year-olds who meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The nursery operates under the direction of Lois Winfield. Winfield, a former Head Start and Kindergarten teacher, is beginning her 17th year with HCCN.

Parents are required to participate in nursery school activities. Anyone interested can call 782-4979 or 941-5692.

Miller Elementary School is located at 18955 Hannon Road.

"My responsibility is to assign space. We moved the treasurer's office to the court after the expansion. The court served us an injunction. The court has now hired their own law firm to defend them which comes from the revenue of the court which comes from the city budget which is taxpayers money."

The next court date for Romulus city officials and court officials at the Wayne County Circuit Court is May 10.

The following are a few of Zabrowski's replies to McAnally's inquiries:

• Magistrate position - McAnally claims the court upon requesting the third judgeship indicated the position of magistrate would no longer be required.

Zaborowski claims the magistrate position has been eliminated for all intents and purposes.

"That is, the court will only utilize a magistrate under very limited circumstances and emergency situations and only when a visiting judge is either not available or the visiting judge's compensation is more expensive than that of a magistrate."

• Court building addition - McAnally claims changes and alterations have been made during the construction phase at the request of the court and at additional costs which have not been authorized or approved by the building authority or the city, some of which may result in violations of the building code.

Zaborowski claims the court has not authorized, nor could it authorize change orders in the construction and architectural plans set forth in the building contract between the city building authority and Vig Construction Co.

"Jim Napiorkoski (city treasurer) attended the monthly architectural meetings and any change orders were discus-sroom where there is room for personalized instruction, small group instruction, cluster instruction and full group direct instruction.

"In every five classrooms there will be a CAIC room," McPharlin said. "The CAIC room will have all the technology as a classroom except there will be 30 computers."

About 200 computers are being targeted for each school in Romulus from which includes the elementary schools.

On June 17 the demolition and restructuring process will begin for Barth, Hale Creek and Wick elementary schools. The demolition process will involve the restructuring of the media center which will allow more access for students, McPharlin said.

"There will be a reading area, office, two conference rooms, a teacher's work room, a learning area and a technology room," McPharlin said.

On Sept. 15, construction of the new athletic complex at the high school will begin as well as the restructuring of the media center at the high school and construction of a new gymnasium at Cory and Merriman elementary schools.

"All that completes phase one of the process," McPharlin said. "For phase one that cost is $20 million. All the design phases have been approved by the board, and they are all under budgeted."

Phase one is expected to be completed and operational by November 1992. The pilot school for the whole project is Wick Elementary School, according to McPharlin.

"Because Wick is the pilot, we're going to complete that school by Sept. 1, 1991," McPharlin said.

Phase two of the project is the renovation of the Romulus Junior High and Senior High. Phase two is expected to begin March 1992 and be completed by September 1993.

"By September of 1992, Romulus Community Schools will have up and operating a state of the art technology delivered curriculum that will meet the needs of every student in the school district," McPharlin said. "State of the art is an instructional learning center, an integrated information system, which means voice, video and data at an instant command of the teacher."

Romulus Superintendent Dr. William Bedell is very confident about the project.

"I went through this about 20 years ago in Livonia," Bedell said. "I'm very impressed with the professionalism of the construction and architectural companies. These guys are extremely organized."

Family legislation

Legislator defends medical leave

U.S. Rep. William D. Ford (D-Taylor) is setting the record straight in regard to the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1991 which has been adopted by the U.S. House of Representatives and is being considered by the Senate.

Some business owners have expressed concerns that the legislation being considered in both houses will add even more burden on their already stressed pocketbooks.

The Act calls for extended, unpaid leave for employees to care for newborns, seriously ill children, spouse or parents, or in cases in which the employee is seriously ill.

While on the surface the bill may appear difficult to live by for some small businesses, Ford said the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1991 applies only to businesses with more than 50 employees.

"This exemption eliminates from coverage 95 percent of all businesses operating in the United States and certainly would exclude from coverage those 'mom and pop' businesses operated locally which have few employees on the payroll," Ford wrote in a recent letter to Associated Newspapers.

Ford, chairman of the U.S. House Committee on Education and Labor, has been a staunch supporter of legislation protecting laborers. His plant-closing legislation attracted a great deal of attention last year.

In studying the issues involved in the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1991, the General Accounting Office reported that the costs to a covered employee per year would be $5.30. The Small Business Administration, Ford said, found that the potential cost to employers would be $6.70 per employee.

William D. Ford

It is believed that when considering the cost of retraining, it is less expensive to permit the unpaid leave, Ford said.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel in the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to root-er your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course, all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a SIGNAL, act now. Get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today! Available at: 3891

Start spring off right with a new relationship

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

In the spring, a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of what young women have been thinking about all winter.

Spring is the season of romance, and those who haven't paired with someone special during the previous winter are seeking to go two-by-two as the days grow longer, the buds blossom and the balmy breezes blow.

Some people seem to instinctively know how and where to meet someone new, but others flounder when they proceed on the hunt for companionship.

"The sure fire way to meet someone is to widen your circle of friends and acquaintances. It is a mathematical certainty that the more people you know, the better chance you will have of finding someone who shares your interests and would be a compatible mate," said Roger Dallwig, director of His Place/Her Place Counseling Center, where singles seminars are regularly staged.

Statistically, the chances for a successful relationship dramatically increase when the couple begins their relationship as friends. Bearing this in mind, a quest for a long-term commitment should center on places and activities which promote friendships through common interests, the counselor said.

In a survey of singles, the main rule seems to be "don't take on the image of a ruthless hunter, because your actions will scare away the game." Rather, use subtle techniques to track and capture your prey, the survey respondents say.

At a recent singles seminar, the novel approach of one woman was discussed.

She believed the best "hunting grounds" for single men were at restaurants during the breakfast hours, and, consequently, she made a circle of four different restaurants each morning to dine with a different group of men. The huntress said married men usually had food in the house because their wives shopped, so they normally ate at home. Single men, on the other hand, normally do not shop for breakfast foods, and most often choose to eat breakfast at a restaurant. Being creatures of habit, they returned to the same restaurant at the same hour each day, she reported.

After several months of making the early-morning restaurant rounds, the huntress bagged her game and now stays home to prepare breakfast for the man of her dreams. Fortunately, her hunt ended before her waistline suffered.

One man reported he attracts a great deal of female attention when he escorts his mother to dinner on Sunday afternoons. Being attentive to his mother seemed to create a "good guy" image to the women dining alone.

A single woman observed on a cross-country airline flight seemed to have the unique ability to turn an act of caring into a method of meeting an unattached man aboard the same flight.

After an unaccompanied 10-year-old boy seated next to her became restless, the woman good naturedly began to entertain him with cards and games. She drifted into conversations with several other passengers on the jetliner, carefully noting that "as a single woman," it was a rare experience to entertain a child. Soon, the conversation turned to a man seated nearby, who was careful to note that "as a single man," he often volunteered for company trips that family people shunned.

Before the passengers arrived at Metro Airport, the single man and woman had seemingly become fast friends, and the boy had a second card partner.

Participants at the singles seminar brainstormed some 101 ways to meet someone new. Their suggestions were to attend concerts and sports events, visit festivals and shows, take canoe trips and bike hikes, join a political club or organization or invite someone out for lunch.

However, they advised, whatever you do or wherever you go, be sure it is in keeping with your own interests.

(Editor's note: The author of the article is presenting 101 Ways to Spring into a New Relationship at 7:30 p.m. May 3 at His Place/Her Place Counseling Center.)

Wayne County officials were on hand Monday for the official opening of a petting zoo on the Eloise property in Westland. The officials, however, took a back seat to the excited children and funny creatures who reigned on opening day of the Green Meadows Children's Farm. The property at Eloise was leased by the county to Green Meadows. They will operate a petting farm at the Michigan Avenue site throughout the summer months. The farm includes more than 200 animals. Children get to milk the cows, ride a tractor and learn about each of the animals there. Pony rides are also available. Cost is $7 per person, children 2 and younger are free. There are special group rates as well. Stacey White, 4, from the Wayne County Day Care Program, Kidspace, (left) tries to milk a cow with help from Pam Longley. Mikey Willey, 16 months, (left, bottom) tries to pet a baby duck with the help of Pam Longley, Pam Namysowski and Angie Hill. For more information, phone 728-1922. Opinion

Keep stadium where it belongs

All of the issues involved with the recently revealed plan for Tiger Stadium have yet to surface, but the main objective has been met.

It appears as if all parties involved have agreed that the Detroit team belongs in downtown Detroit.

After months of negotiations and speculation about possible locations for a new stadium, it seems as if the key players have at least agreed to the spot - Detroit.

Taking Tiger Stadium out of downtown would be the final death blow to the city.

Downtown is becoming a barren, no-man's land where suburbanites fear to tread.

And yet even those of us who live in the suburbs think of ourselves as residents of Detroit.

If the city dies, the suburbs are sure to suffer as well.

The Tiger plan calls for the stadium to remain in approximately the same location, but to serve as the centerpiece for a larger development. Shops, recreational activities and restaurants will add to the ambience surrounding the stadium. Hopefully, it will bring more people to the games and more people to Detroit.

The plan calls for the option of restoration of the existing stadium to remain available. It is important that this option be explored to its greatest extent as it is a landmark and still has some redeeming value.

Tigers General Manager Bo Schembechler seems to have closed his eyes to this possibility. He should at least leave himself open to ideas.

County Executive Edward McNamara has called for the voters to approve a hotel tax to help fund the stadium project. It is great that he would ask voters even when such a step is not required.

A hotel tax is a reasonable method for funding the plan.

There is also talk of selling bonds. All the answers are not in on these questions, and therefore we reserve opinion.

The bigger issue, however, has been resolved. The Tigers will stay in Detroit - if a workable plan is in place by Aug. 1.

Recycling of Eloise property

In the annual state of the county address, Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara promised to encourage recycling as part of our lifestyles.

The county, it seems, has become in tuned with the issue even more than one thinks.

The Eloise property along Michigan Avenue in Westland has long been abandoned. Buildings are crumbling and falling down, the land is vacant.

It seems, however, in the past year that some new options have become available for the property.

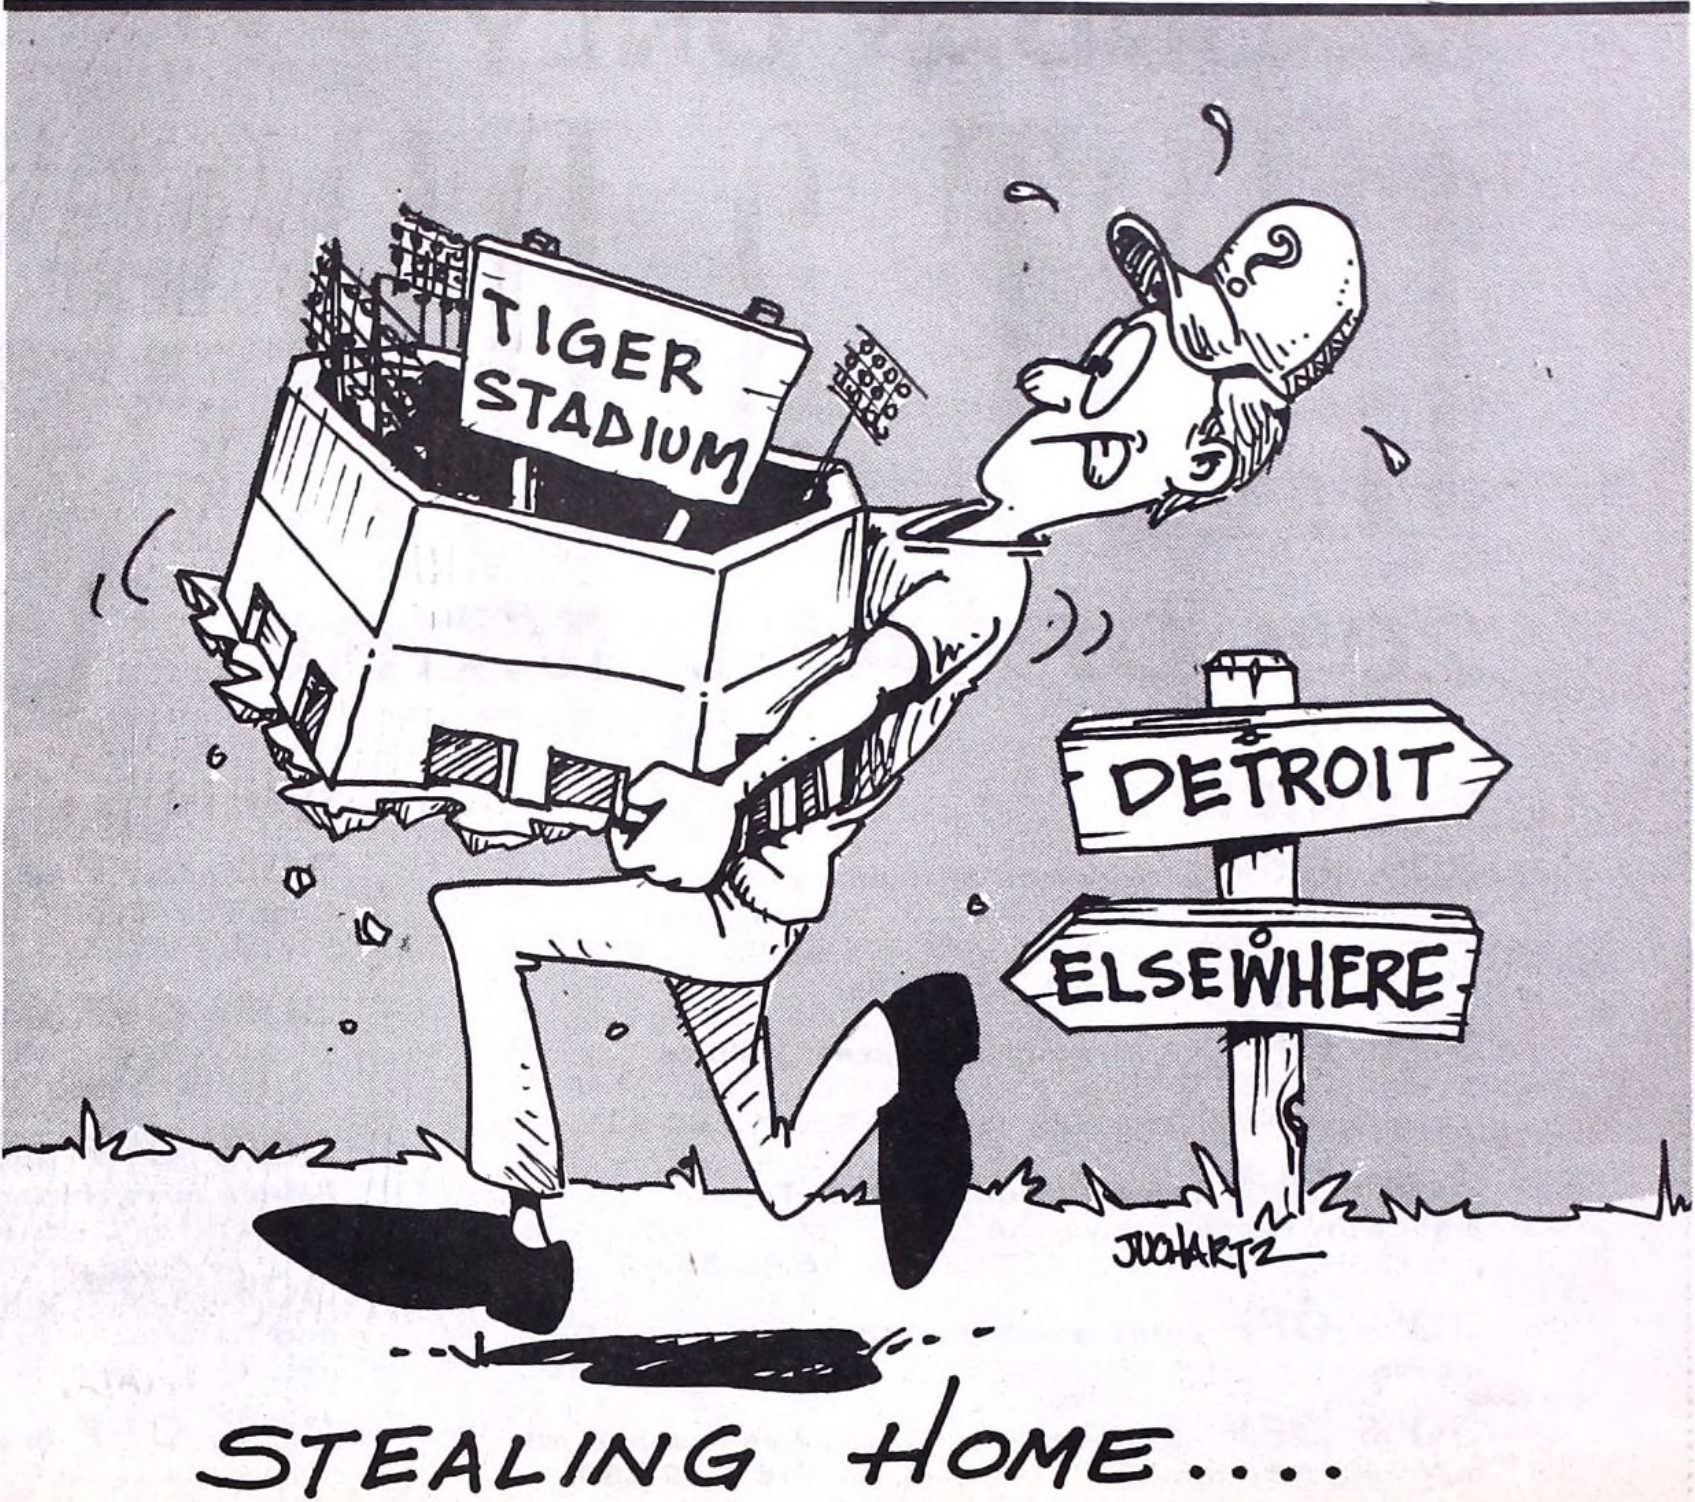

Previous discussions of the land have always involved demolition. Now it seems as if some of the buildings currently standing can be put to good use, and the property can be utilized as well.

Last week the Family Center opened in one of the buildings that was believed to be of no further use. Private and public agencies joined to renovate the building, and now it will be used to house homeless families.

Also, the county has recently signed a lease with a company to operate a petting farm on a portion of the land. Here, children who otherwise would never have the opportunity to see or become acquainted with farm animals will meet them face to face.

Although neither of these programs are huge moneymakers and they do not spur further development, they are worthwhile ways of using what would otherwise be ignored or destroyed.

This type of recycling can save everyone a lot of money, and really make a difference to the community.

Everyone is allowed their view

I became very upset at the March 25th School Board meeting.

Why are people lashing out at others, putting blame on everyone else. Let us help with this situation in ways that we can, not call people ignorant because they have a different view point. Everyone has a right to stand up for what they believe. We should not be "yes" people, but have a mind of our own.

I have raised eleven children in this school system, paid private tuition and paid public school taxes and asked no one for help and proud of it. My taxes in 1946 were $45.00. In 1991 they're $1832.00. How can I possibly pay more on a small fixed income. I need some relief.

I, as no doubt others do, would like a yearly school budget published on income and expenses in a local paper so we could see where our school tax money is going. Is that too much to ask?

I never run down those who have not a college education, I have both in my family and praise them all.

Voters speak loudly, again

The voters of the Wayne-Westland Community Schools have spoken loudly again.

This is the fourth "NO" in the past 18 months. It should become apparent very soon to anyone who can understand the English language, that the citizens want NEW PRIORITIES NOT NEW TAXES.

The last three millage elections have said "NO" not to new taxes, but to THE LACK OF HONESTY, INTEGRITY, AND ACCOUNTABILITY in our schools. Now that the school board finally understands that, it is time for them to take the $75 million in their budget and use their ingenuity to provide the best possible education in an honest and forthright way.

The administration needs to understand also that the threats and intimidation techniques of the past will not work now, nor in the future. As long as the administration refuses to give the voters a choice and insists on its way without changing its approach, the voters will continue to rebel.

David F. Moranty

Recall is not the answer

I am responding to a recent article in the Wayne Eagle entitled, "Group threatens school board recall." Judy Bailey is "wondering what they can do." Recalling the school board is not the answer. If anything, it will only add to more inner turmoil.

People are not looking at the main problem. Equitable School Funding. The only way the Wayne-Westland School District can generate more funds is to increase the millage rate. If Judy Bailey has been attending the school board meetings, obviously she hasn't been listening to the facts.

The school board members do not want to make these program cuts but they have no choice. I feel the board and the administration has shown enough proof that the funds are not there.

I still see the children as our first priority and we must see that the educational programs are there for them. The only way this can happen is to support the millage increase if placed on the ballot in June.

Showdown

John Glenn and Salem to decide today who is in top position

By TERRY LYNCH
ANP Special Writer

Just because the John Glenn Rockets are 11-0, doesn't mean all their games are cakewalks. In fact, they are finding there's a special kind of pressure that goes with a long winning streak.

Despite the pressure, the Rockets are finding ways to continue to win. Their latest victory, a 6-5 win over division opponent Walled Lake Central, was a hard-fought battle.

"We weren't looking past them, because they have a pretty good baseball team. But I tried to use some pitchers that haven't thrown a lot and we almost went too deep into the well," Glenn Coach Norm Hoenes said.

Hoenes was alluding to the Thursday showdown when division rivals clash. Glenn, ranked No. 2 in the state, hosts the Plymouth Salem, the No. 6 state-ranked team, for a huge double-header. Both teams are 4-0 in the division.

The Rockets are going to need their best arms in shape for that match-up.

Four pitchers saw action in the Walled Lake game. Aaron Scheffer started and pitched two innings of no-hit ball. He also struck out two.

John Ward, not to be outdone, came in and also pitched two innings of no-hit ball. Ward was the winning pitcher.

The Rockets jumped out to a 5-0 lead after five innings, but the Vikings weren't conceding a thing.

"They were real patient as a ballclub," Hoenes said. "Even when they were down by five runs, they didn't quit. They just continued to play hard until they could put something together."

In the bottom of the fifth, the Vikings victimized third pitcher Chris Kirkey by scoring two runs on three hits and two walks. Kirkey worked 1 2/3 innings.

ing in three more in the sixth to tie the contest at 5-5. Rocket hurler Lawrence Scheffer was charged with the three runs.

"Lawrence was kind of shaky in the sixth when we called on him to get out of a jam. But he settled down and got tough in the seventh to shut them down," Hoenes said.

Good thing because the Rockets went into the last inning with a slim one-run lead. And that run was a gift.

It was set up when Gary Pierce was safe on an error and quickly took second on an over-throw. He advanced to third on a passed ball. When the Viking catcher lofted his check throw over the third baseman's head, Pierce scored the winning run.

But Walled Lake gave it a closing shot in their last stand. With two out in the seventh, the Vikings put a man on base on an infield error. Continuing to press, the runner tried to steal second. But Rocket catcher Mike White cut him down to close the door.

The Rockets spread the ball around, with three players collecting two hits. Right fielder Rob Filary was 2 for 3 with an RBI. Starter Aaron Scheffer hit two singles to go 2 for 3, as did John Ward.

Ward had the big hit for Glenn in a game last Thursday against North Farmington, which the Rockets came back to win 5-3.

With Glenn down 3-1 in the sixth, Ward banged out a triple with the bases loaded to collect three RBIs and put the Rockets out front. He was quickly singled home by Andy Gagne to close out the scoring.

The pitching duties in the game were split by the Scheffer brothers. Aaron started and worked 3 1/3 innings, while Lawrence worked the other 3 2/3 innings to get the win.

The loss went to right-hander Chris White.

John Glenn was set to play Dearborn Edsel Ford on Wednesday in a non-league match-up to set up the duel of state baseball powers at Glenn.

Belleville, Wayne tie at finish

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

It went down to the last relay and Wayne Memorial managed to come from behind and tie visiting Belleville at 64-64 in a Wolverine 'A' Conference men's track and field meet.

"It was a dogfight to the end," Wayne Coach Floyd Carter said. "And those winds didn't help. And we both had injuries to key athletes."

Belleville Coach Dave Medley agreed.

"It was a strange meet," Medley said. "That wind was something, wasn't it?"

Winds were clocked between 35 to 40 miles per hour. They definitely didn't help performances.

But Belleville received an outstanding performance from sophomore Al Barnett, who won the shot put competition with one of the best tosses in the state this year—52'10".

Belleville premier sprinter Andre Edwards had his problems. After winning the 100-yard dash in 11.1, he found himself in a personal dogfight with Wayne runner Al Buford, who beat the Tiger athlete in the 200 meters with a 22.6. And that effort was recorded against the wind.

Buford also managed to win the long jump event with a leap of 20'3".

Buford had enough left to anchor the mile relay, lifting the Zebras to the tie. The lineup also included Phil Gibson, Joe Dumont and Michael Hicks, who were clocked in 3:43.

Carl Olszewski's leap of 6'1" gave Wayne the high jump, and James Grady struck gold in both the 110-meter high hurdles and the 300-meter lows.

Wayne put the best 400-meter relay team on the field with Shawn Ma'aza, Michael Hoods, Steve Caldwell and Buford, who ran a 45.1.

Dumont won the 400 meters in 53.8.

Wayne would have been in deep trouble if Belleville didn't lose Lee Bradford just before the meet. Bradford, an outstanding hurdler and class high jumper, twisted his ankle in a drain near the Wayne field.

Belleville also had a winner in Paige Orr, whose 128'2" toss won the discus event. The Tiger 800-relay team of Steve Wygonik, Josh Fisher, James Craig and Edwards got the job done in 1:38.2.

Jason Kidwell put the Wayne Memorial and Belleville finished in a "dead heat" Tuesday in their first Wolverine 'A' Conference encounter. Wayne hurdler Art Thomas (top left) has the edge over Belleville hurdler Craig Allen in their race to the finish line. However, Kershman Daniels (above) was forced to the sidelines in the 800 relay when he pulled a hamstring muscle. The event went to Belleville. Belleville also won the discus thanks to Marques Franklin (left), who had a winning toss of 128 feet. ANP photos by Deanne L. DeYonker/staff photographer

1,600-meter run in the Belleville victory column (4:54), and he also finished first for the 3,200 meters (10:54). Keith Julian was the winner in the 800 meter (2:08).

Wayne and Belleville are on the road today for their next conference meets. Wayne is at Fordson, while the Tigers travel for an easy one at Southgate Anderson.

Salem boosts record 10-0

By TERRY LYNCH
ANP Special Writer

The Plymouth-Salem Rocks, fresh off a tournament championship Saturday, boosted their record to 10-0 by defeating the Farmington Falcons 3-0 Monday.

The victory put the Rocks at 4-0 in their division of the Western Lakes Athletic Conference. They are co-leaders with John Glenn, also at 4-0 and the two are set to butt heads in a double-header Thursday.

To become champions of the Monroe Taylor Invitational, the Rocks defeated three area teams. They beat Taylor Kennedy 11-5 and Monroe 8-1 in preliminary action. They crushed cross-town rival Plymouth-Canton 11-4 in the championship game.

"We've been scoring a lot of runs all year. What's really nice is we've also had some good, strong pitching and we have played well defensively, too," Coach Fred Gravelin said.

In the tournament, catcher Scott Niemec collected two hits in three games. He is an outstanding 17 for 30 on the season.

In the game against Farmington, the Rocks relied on pitching and defense.

The Rocks are also strong in those areas. Pitcher Scott Rogers is 5-0 on the season, and the Rocks defense played errorless ball against the Falcons.

The Rocks got a complete game from Chris Tomas, who threw 71 pitches in seven in-

Robichaud Bulldogs jolt rival Inkster

A weak Inkster defense that committed four errors in the last inning left Viking Coach Jerome Orr wondering what he has to do for his club to win a game.

The Vikings fell apart in the late innings against Robichaud and handed over a 10-4 Suburban Athletic Conference gift to the Bulldogs.

"We had our opportunities to win this one," Orr said. "But we didn't cash in on them. In the meantime, we fell apart in the seventh and they come up with the big runs."

"Our inexperience and the late innings—that's what beat us."

The two league rivals exchanged a pair of runs in the first inning, then Robichaud edged ahead 3-2 in the third and made it a 4-2 game in the fourth when the Vikings, with the help of lead-off batter Bernard Reeves' second double of the game, managed to tie the game in their fourth at 4-4.

However, that was all there was for the Vikings who saw the knot broken in the fifth. Robichaud added to its 5-4 lead with four unanswered runs in the seventh.

Inkster wasted three doubles by Reeves, who had an outstanding day.

Tigers rally in the 7th, fall to Trenton 10-9

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

After giving up seven runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to Trenton, Belleville roared back and scored five runs in the seventh, but it wasn't enough as they fell short and lost a cliff-hanger 10-9 Tuesday night.

It was the Tigers' 10th loss in 12 starts this season, and the heartbreaking loss evoked criticism from Tiger Coach John Bertz, who usually is reserved about his team's play.

"We haven't improved at all since the start of the season," Bertz said. "Our defense and hitting are horrendous. What else can I say but that this is my worst start. We have to get something going, and fast."

Bertz is in his sixth season as the Tiger skipper and he has had a title contender in at least four of those seasons. He won the conference title in 1988.

The Tigers looked as if they were going to pull it out, drilling five of their total 12 hits in the last frame. They had the tying run on third and the go-ahead base runner on second when winning pitcher John Liddle got his third out on a called strike.

Trenton jumped to a 3-0 lead after four complete innings before the Tigers came back with two in the fifth and took the lead 4-3 in the sixth. However, four costly Tiger errors in the sixth opened the door to seven Trenton runs.

Bertz did commend the players "for not giving up."

"I have to say this, our kids could have folded after that disastrous sixth, but they didn't. To their credit, they came back and made a game of it."

Four Belleville hitters accounted for eight of the Tigers' hits. Brian Boike collected a pair of singles and scored three runs, while Sean Zaborowski laced two doubles in his five trips to the plate. Matt Barrett and Mike Komaromi also hammered two hits apiece.

The loss left the Tigers holding a 1-4 record in the Wolverine 'A' Conference. They travel to play Wyandotte Friday night.

Wayne women turn back Belleville

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

With Akua Hammons, Erika Beetz and Sue Kobayaz splitting six first places, Wayne Memorial raced to a 76-52 victory over Belleville in the women's division of a Wolverine 'A' Conference meet Tuesday afternoon.

With both teams fighting wind gusts of 35 to 40 miles per hour, Wayne breezed to their third conference victory in four starts. The loss dropped Belleville to a 1-3 record.

Hammond was declared the winner in the long jump when she soared 15 feet. She also ran a 66.0 for her victory in the 400-meter dash. Beetz, the gregarious foreign exchange student from Germany, posted a 17.5 in winning the 100-meter hurdles and then claimed victory in the 300 meters with a time of 50.4.

Wayne also placed first in the discus with Kobayaz, who had a toss of 83 feet. And she also picked up a gold for her 29'8" toss in the shot put.

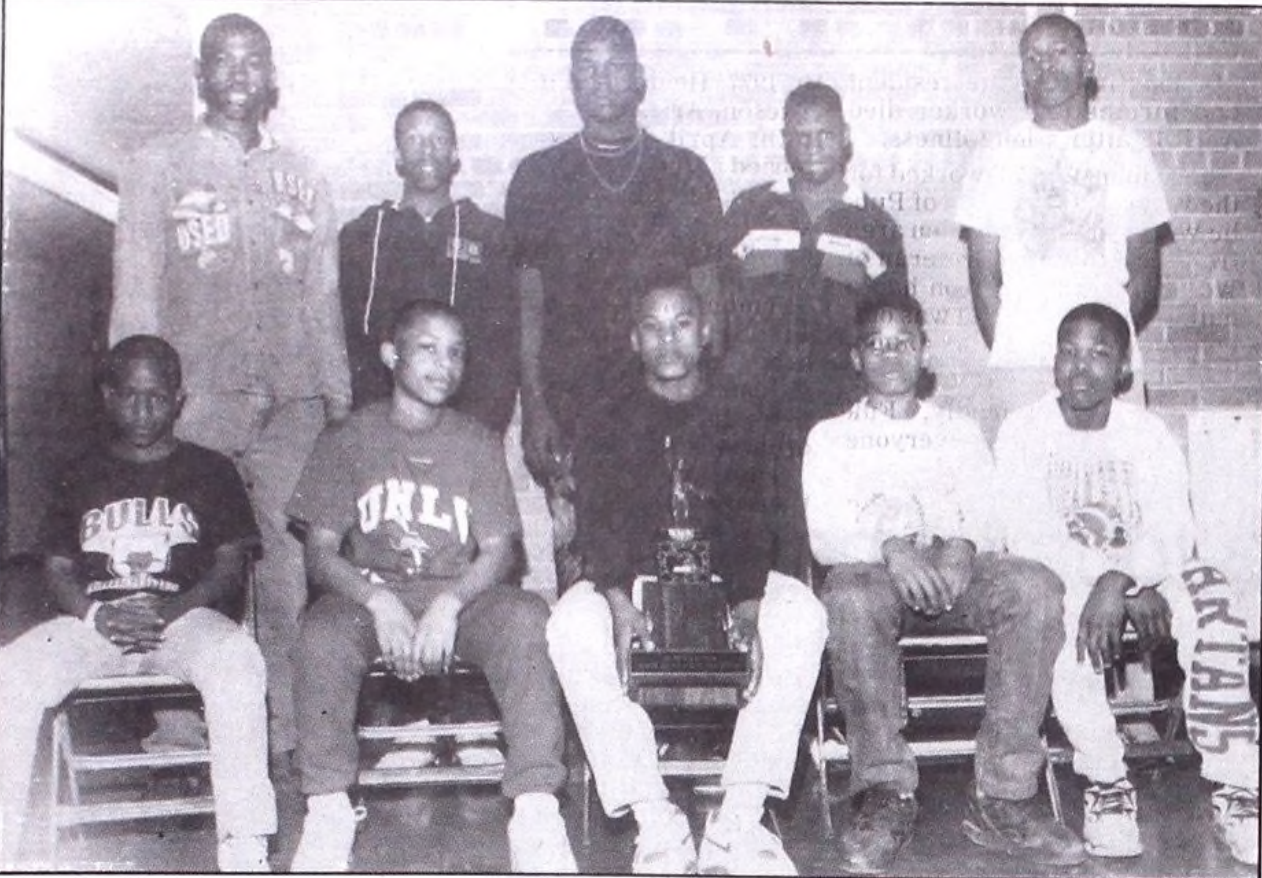

Brandi Caincross, an outstanding volleyball player, showed she had track talent as well. She won the high jump competition as she cleared 5 feet.

The Zebras' 400-meter relay team of Loleta Cobbs, Nicole Perry, Tranessa Burroughs and Quinday Cooper finished first with a 54.9.

Rebecca Delcomyn gave Wayne a victory in the 800 meters (2:48.0), and Cooper crossed the finish line first in the 200 meters in 27.6.

Wayne also won the final event, the 1,600-meter relay thanks to Burroughs, Beetz, Zenobia Cooper and Hammons, who combined for a 4:48.

State cage champs

Who has the best Class F basketball team in the state? Blanchette Middle School cagers recently answered that question by coasting to the state title in Flint. Coach Johnny Parker's club riddled teams from Dearborn, Saginaw and Detroit to claim the coveted title. The team roster included Albert White (from left), Gregory Prewitt, Demetrius Roots, James Outlaw, Ambrose Gibbs, Perry Pope, Leon Bouldie and Anthony White. Coach Parker and Mychal Reeves were not available at the time of the photo. ANP photo by Deanne L. DeYonker/staff photographer

It's showtime Glenn, Salem track

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Undisputed Western Lakes Conference track king John Glenn will place its crown on the block Thursday when undefeated Plymouth Salem invades Westland.

The Rockets, winners of the last three conference titles and undefeated in their first five meets this season, are matched "evenly with Salem this year," according to first-year Glenn Coach Jess Shough.

"It's going to come down to which team wants it more," Shough said. "Comparing strengths, we are as evenly-matched as they come. It will go right down to the wire."

That wasn't the case Thursday against Walled Lake Central. The champions ruled everything and should have evoked the mercy rule in their lopsided 123-18 victory over the Vikings. Glenn swept all 17 events.

The Westlanders received personal best performances in eight events.

In winning the shot put, Jason Key had a put of 44'3". He also won the shot with a toss of 139'10".

Rocket Brandon Buck soared 20'2" in winning the broad jump competition.

Rocket runner Joe Rajeski toured the 1,600 meters in 4:55.9, while Randy Seach covered the 400 meters in 53.06, and Andy Hodge was clocked in 43.9 in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles for other Rocket victories. All were personal best times.

Jason Nowicki's 2:09.84 for the 800 meters and Matt Graca's 10:59.5 for the 3,200 meters also counted for Glenn first places.

Ex-Glenn track star heads for Stanford

Bianca Smiley, a former Westland John Glenn track and field star, has accepted a summer position as sports trainer at Stanford University in California.

A sophomore at Michigan State University, Bianca is studying sports medicine.

The 19-year-old daughter of Fred and Beverly Smiley of Inkster, Bianca was recently chosen as a trainer in the Michigan State vs. Southern Cal John Hancock Bowl.

Bianca is a graduate of Westland John Glenn where she won letters in track and field and volleyball.

Her father, Fred Smiley, is a former All-American cager who played for Northwood Institute in Midland. He also was an All-State cage star from Inkster High School.

nings. He gave up only five hits while fanning six. He did not allow a walk.

While Tomas showed the Rocks have more than just one reliable pitcher, Tom Davey has shown Niemic is not their only hitter. Davey is hitting .520 on the season, and has been there when needed most. Through 10 games, Davey has 20 RBIs.

Rocks outfielder Kevin Craggs is also hitting .500 and had a solo round-tripper in the game against Farmington.

Niemec continued to hit well, collecting two hits as well.

The match against Farmington was very close with the Rocks ahead 1-0 going into the fifth inning. The Rocks scored one run in the fifth and one in the sixth.

"We had scoring opportunities, but things just didn't click for us. But when the bats fell silent, our pitching and defense came through," Gravelin said.

Gravelin is looking for some exciting baseball on Thursday.

The Rocks' winning ways have earned them a No. 6 ranking in the state in Class A baseball.

A lesson in car theft

An officer with the Michigan State Police Auto Theft Task Force displays a poster bearing photographs showing how your car can be stolen. The task force has put a considerable dent in car thefts in the area, but an educated car owner is the best defense.

Grand Prix plans begin

The popular Indy cars will return to the streets of downtown Detroit this June for the 1991 Valvoline Detroit Grand Prix.

Detroit will be the sixth stop on the 17-race Indy Car World Series offer a $1 million prize to the first driver across the finish line.

Other races to complement the big event will be the Liquid Tide SCCA Trans-Am Motor City 100, PPG Presents the Firestone Indy Lights Powered by Buick.

The events will be staged June 14, 15 and 16 with the big Indy race televised live around the globe on June 16.

Located in the center of the automotive capital of the world, the 2.5-mile, 17-turn temporary street circuit runs along the Detroit River and around the Renaissance Center. The race features the only tunnel on the 17-race circuit.

Michael Andretti was the winner of the 1990 Detroit event. He will return this year, as will Al Unser Jr.

Last year the three-day event drew 224,197 people into downtown Detroit.

Tickets are now on sale for the race. They range in price from $120 for a three-day pass which will get you into the pits and provide you with a view of the start/finish line, to $30 for a two-day general admission pass. Friday is Hudson's Day, and admission is free.

For complete ticket information, phone 259-7749.
